

2010 World Cup Production – as at 07th April 2010

adidas is the official Sponsor, Licensee and Outfitter of the 2010 FIFA World Cup South Africa™. adidas is also partner to several national football teams who have qualified for this sports event.

The international trade union movement and several of our other critical stakeholders are concerned about working conditions and the protection of worker rights in the factories manufacturing World Cup products. They have requested us to make the names and locations of these factories public.

Being committed to transparency and public disclosure, we have prepared a complete list of World Cup production, with the names and addresses of the factories per product category and country. The list also shows the status of worker or trade union representation at the individual facility.

All of our contract suppliers are the subject of regular inspections by the adidas Group Social & Environmental Affairs Team who check working conditions in accordance with the Group's Workplace Standards.
